Tragic Diary

October 5: Today my life began. My parents do not know it yet. I am as small as the pollen of a flower, but it is I already. I will be a girl. I will have blond hair and blue eyes. Nearly everything is settled already, even that I shall love flowers.

October 19: I have grown a little, but I am still too small to do anything by myself. My mother does almost everything for me, though she still does not know that she is carrying me under her heart. She does not know that she is already helping me, and that she is even feeding me with her own blood. She is so good...

But is it true that I am not yet a real person? That only my mother exists? I am a real person, just as a small crumb of bread is still real bread. My mother is, and I am.

October 23: My mouth is just now beginning to open. Just think - in a year or so I'll be laughing, and later I'll start to talk. My first word will be: "Mama."

October 25: Today my heart began to beat. It will beat softly for the rest of my life, never stopping! After many years it will tire, it will stop, and then I shall die.

November 2: I am growing continually. My arms and legs are taking shape, but I must wait a long time before those tiny legs will raise me to my mother's arms; before those little arms will be able to conquer the earth and befriend people.

November 12: Tiny fingers are beginning to form on my hand. how small they are! One day I'll stroke my mother's hair with them. I shall take her hair to my mouth and she'll say: Oh! Nasty!

November 20: Only today that doctor told my mother that I am living here under her heart. How happy she must be! Are you happy, mother?

November 25: My mother and father are probably thinking about a name for me! And they don't even know that I am a little girl, so they are probably calling me "Andy." But I want to be called Barbara. I am growing so big.

December 10: My hair is growing. It is as bright and shiny as the sun. I wonder what kind of hair my mother has.

December 13: I am almost able to see, though it is night around me. When mother brings me into the world, it will be full of sunshine and overflowing with flowers. I have never seen a flower, you know. But more than anything, I want to see my mother. How do you look, mom?

December 24: I wonder if my mother hears the delicate beat of my heart? Some children are born with sickly hearts, and then the gentle finger of the doctor performs miracles to make them healthy. But my heart is healthy. It beats so evenly: Tup-tup, tup-tup... You shall have a healthy little daughter, mom!

December 28: Today my mother killed me.

The Institute Slubow Narodu, a prominent Polish Lay Apostolate group, printed "Tragic Diary" at the request of His Eminence, Stephen Cardinal Wyszynski, Primate of Poland. The article, written by H. Schwab, appeared in December, 1961 issue of SODALIS, publication of SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, Orchard Lake, Michigan. It was translated for OUR SUNDAY VISITOR by Father Edward J. Krason, assistant pastor of SS. Peter and Paul parish, Huntington, IN and printed in the June 24, 1962 edition.

Remaining Pro-Life in the Political Arena

Governor Robert P. Casey (D-PA)

(The following is the printed transcript of an address by Former Governor Robert P. Casey delivered at the University of Notre Dame, it was delivered on April 6, 1991.)

Introduction by Jeff Caruso,
President - Notre Dame Law School Right-to-Life

As you know, our guest this evening is a staunch advocate of the family. Serving as the Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania from 1987 to 1995, he helped thousands of families by reducing taxes, creating jobs, increasing opportunities for senior citizens and homeowners, and increasing funding for education. In addition, he was instrumental in building a new, environmentally friendly, statewide telephone network and a comprehensive health insurance program for children, to a minimum to be constructed, the Philadelphia Daily News reported that, at the end of his term, he "left behind a record of accomplishment that would be the envy of most governors." Governor Casey is also a staunch advocate of the unborn. He has been a leader in the pro-life movement for a long time and the Pennsylvania ballot law, for which he gained statewide attention nonetheless. For his opinion on the matter, please see his address which follows. I was very appropriate to do so. Tonight he will continue to speak the truth and he would invite us to do the same. His talk will focus on remaining pro-life in the political arena. So, without further delay, please join me in welcoming Governor Robert P. Casey.

Address by Governor Robert P. Casey

Jeff, thank you very much for those kind words, very generous indeed, I am grateful. Thank you as well to everyone in this audience who came here this evening for this program. It's great to be back here at Notre Dame. I was here almost two years ago at my last Right to Life dinner and I'm glad to be back. I'm glad to be back at the time as because I gather from the great introductions I've sold it many times since and I will do it again tonight but was probably my proudest moment as a father and as one who has been an admirer of this great institution for my entire life. The honorary degree, which was conferred upon me by the University of Notre Dame, was probably the proudest moment of my life. I'm very grateful for that honor. I'm grateful for the opportunity to be back here at Notre Dame tonight to speak to you about the pro-life movement and the challenges that we face in the coming years.

My thanks to the Notre Dame Family to Father Malloy, for his many kindnesses to me and to my family over the years, to Father Hesburgh, for his assistance and his interest and friendship. I thank Father Tim Scully and Father Bill Miscamble for their warm friendship and their strong support and the encouragement they have extended to me and my family through some difficult days during the past several years. I thank Father Jim Burtchaell, Father Ted Hesburgh, Father Tim Scully, Father Bill Miscamble, Father Malloy, Father Jenkins, Father Jim Burtchaell, Father Ted Hesburgh, Father Tim Scully, Father Bill Miscamble, Father Malloy, Father Jenkins, and Father Jim Burtchaell for their kindness and their support. I thank the students who have worked so hard to put this program together and to invite me here tonight. I thank the students for the challenge of America. My thanks to all the sponsoring organizations that left me tolerated, and to Jeff and to all members of the student body - for the folks who are here with us tonight - who were instrumental in making this evening possible. So all of you, I'm glad to be back. I'm glad to be back at Notre Dame and I'm glad to be back with close something I think is very important to our country.

I would like to begin with the situation statement of Notre Dame itself, which says, and I quote "The University is dedicated to the pursuit and sharing of truth for its own sake." It continues, and I quote, "We also invite a sense of human solidarity and concern for the common good that will lead to a more just society." I repeat, "a more just society." Later it says that again. We also invite a sense of human solidarity and concern for the common good that will lead to a more just society. I would like to explore tonight with you a few reasons how the words of that situation statement can inform our discussion of the pro-life movement and the challenges that we face.

But, first, some personal background about me that you may not know. I come from a long line of Democrats. My father and grandfather, all the County, were Democrats so far back as the eye can see. Many of them were elected officials. I was raised in a household where politics was discussed around the dinner table every night. I was taught to be a Democrat. I was taught that the Democratic Party of America was the kind of the second chance, we didn't have immigrants away in this country. But, often the welcome extended point beyond one chance. And so, when the rights in the welcome only to those who were successful, or to those who were powerful, or to those who were rich, I was taught that that was not the Democratic Party. I was taught that the Democratic Party was the party of the little guy. They heard to the voice of the Democratic Party the voice of their country, a voice of inner birth energy and compassionate. Like so many of his time, my father lived a life of unremitting struggle. At the end of his life, he was struck down by a debilitating illness. He was a man who had been a leader in his community, a leader in his union, a leader in his party. He had been engaged in the struggle of life, and he had been engaged in that struggle for his entire life. And through his illness, and through his last days in Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia, watching over it, I thought about the legacy he left behind. He left behind a family, a family that I think, is a family that is typical of many families in this country. And, when he was struggling with his illness, I thought about the legacy he left behind. He left behind a family, a family that I think

Annual March for Life

In what has become a perennial event for ND/SMC Right to Life on the anniversary of Roe v Wade a group of students pour hundreds of thousands in Washington, DC for the March for life

Last year in addition to the March for Life many students attended the Life Mass at Catholic University's Basilica a Life Conference at Georgetown University and an ND/SMC student's mass. In addition to these organized activities students were able to spend a couple days in DC while staying in an hotel.

The March is a fun, educational and moving experience Simply ask anyone who has gone in previous years. We invite all students from the ND/SMC community to join us

This golden opportunity is made possible by the hard work of RTL members and is made very affordable thanks to generous donors.

Cloning Issue

Update 11/29

By now many of you have heard that Advanced Cell Technologies of Worchester Massachusetts has cloned the first human embryo Now an American group called Clonaid, which operates outside of the United States, has claimed that it was the first group to clone human embryos, and is willing to volunteer proof of the embryo As you may recall from the first ND Right to Life legislative update a bill to prohibit cloning in all forms passed the House of Representatives The Human Cloning Prohibition Act, also known as H R. 2505 was sponsored by Rep Weldon, and proposed to ban all forms of human cloning, including both reproductive cloning (the implantation of a cloned embryo into a mother's womb) and so-called therapeutic cloning (the creation of a cloned human embryo specifically for research purposes) The bill makes cloning a crime punishable up to 10 years in jail with a $1,000 000 fine

Unfortunately the Senate companion bill sponsored by Senator Brownback, also known as S 790 has not been brought up for consideration yet It will be debated and voted upon this next February or March. At the same time, pro-abortion Senator Specter will propose legislation hoping to advance embryonic stem cell research.

Since legislation concerning cloning has only passed in the House the bill has not become a law cloning is still legal in the United States. Because of this It is important that our Senators hear from us concerning this issue

For more information about the cloning issue visit http://www.nrlc org/Killing_Embryos/index.html

Legislative Action

Notre Dame Right to Life is urging all its members to write letters to their senators about the cloning issue

To see pro-life voting records of your Senator from last year, visit the following website:
http //nrlc org/Federal/Scorecard/senatescores html The percentage indicates "how pro life a Senator is, according to the votes that have been scored. Although this does not list any votes concerning the cloning issue..It will give you an idea of how your Senator has voted previously

Click here for an example of a letter Please feel free to copy this one or write your own

Click here to find the mailing address for your Senator

Please write your Senator It is very important for our elected officials to hear the pro-life position coming from voters It will not take very much time but it is a way for you to get involved.

Most senators and representatives send responses in the mail, so you can look forward to that! (Come on, all of us love getting mail!) Lastly to aid the lobbying efforts of the National Right to Life Committee please send a copy of any response you receive from your Senator to

FRIDAY OCTOBER 4-

--CEMETARY FOR THE INNOCENTS
5:30am- set up
7:30 (or after the pep rally)- take down

Some notes regarding the Cemetary for the Innocents If you don't know what it is here is a short description We put up around 2500 small crosses in the common south of the Library Each cross symbolizes approximately 2 babies killed each day by abortion A sign is placed in front of the rows of crosses which explains the meaning of them. This is done to make an outward statement to campus about the impact of abortion on the mothers and unborn victims Please consider helping with this It is a very intense endeavor which has an immense impact on those who view the crosses as well as those who put them up Another e-mail will be sent out in the middle of this week explaining where to meet and other pertinent information.

Annual March for Life

In what has become a annual event for ND/SMC Right to Life, on the anniversary of Roe v Wade a group of students join hundreds of thousands in Washington, DC for the March for life

Last year in addition to the March for Life, many students attended the Life Mass at Catholic University's Basilica, a Life Conference at Georgetown University, and an ND/SMC student's mass In addition to these organized activities, students were able to spend a couple days in DC while staying in an hotel.

The March is a fun educational and moving experience Simply ask anyone who has gone in previous years. We invite all students from the ND/SMC community to join us

This golden opportunity is made possible by the hard work of RTL members, and is made very affordable thanks to generous donors.

Sign up online!

2004 March for Life trip information now posted...
Trip package info: Trip package 1, Trip package 2

We hope to have an online sign-up and we are also going to have signups with dorm reps, so if you missed the ones in the dining hall, check with them. If you have any questions regarding signups, email Todd at ttorres@nd.edu, email Caitlin at cshaughn@nd.edu with any other questions.

Daniel Disilva

Musical information:

The influence of world rhythms on Daniel's musicianship is continuously evident. A vibrant latin percussionist, Daniel leads CRISPIN as a vocalist, composer, arranger, as well as being its founder

As a percussionist, he spent most of the last decade touring on the Latin Jazz scene with various acts, most notably with the jazz phenomenon Carlos Guedes from Caracas, Venezuela (on Narada and Heads Up Records) and Smooth Jazz saxophonist Joseph Vincelli.

He has also played on stages around the globe with Alison Kraus, James Taylor, B.B. King, the Chieftans, Celtic fiddler Natalie MacMaster, Joan Osborne, Joe McBride, Carey Pierce (of Jackopierce), Mark O'Connor, and international reggae sensation Watusi.

After 10 years as a touring secular musician, Daniel came to a new understanding of music as a powerful experience able to influence the heart with messages of good and evil. This and much prayer lead him to form the band Crispin, a Catholic funk band that has now been seen around the world by millions. The mission of the band Crispin, you guessed it, to use the power of music to win hearts for Christ.

Daniel DiSilva and Crispin have evolved into what is arguably the cutting edge in musical evangelization. With a show that is highly professional and full of energy, Crispin has touched the hearts of thousands through live concerts.

Speaker information:

Daniel has been a speaker at churches and conferences in many countries around the world (including Steubenville Conferences, NCYCs, World Youth Days, the National Marian Congresses). Daniel has addressed audiences of all ages and numbers. Daniel's most common theme is chastity, and has spoken to thousands about God's gift of sex in talks based in the Theology of the Body writings of Pope John Paul II. He most recently comes to us from Trinidad and Tobago where he spend three days in a conference with 1200 local men exploring God's biblical plan for the human body, sanctified by the Christ, the Word made flesh.

In his concerts with Crispin, Daniel unpacks the Gospel messages of Christ which are woven into his beautiful songs and lyrics, and "cuts to the heart" with his inspired music, his vibrant vocal style, and humor that together have brought audiences around the world to a deeper love for Jesus.

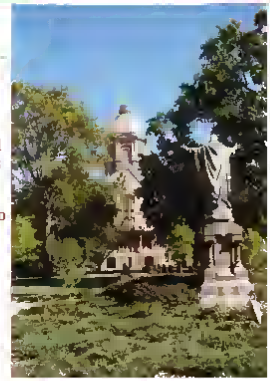
Notre Dame Right to Life

Pro-Life Collegiate Conference

"Am I my brother's keeper?": Freedom Misunderstood



On April 22, 2006 Notre Dame Right to Life is proud to host a pro-life collegiate conference, "Am I my Brother's Keeper? Freedom Misunderstood."

This conference aims to bring together the students of the University of Notre Dame and its sister St. Mary's College, as well as students from across the nation, in order to examine and discuss the many facets of the abortion problem in today's culture.

Eminent Catholic scholars will present lectures on various topics to help round out students' knowledge of issues that face their generation. In order to remind all that ultimately all is in God's hands, the conference will include Mass on Saturday. Also, those remaining in the Notre Dame area are invited to attend Notre Dame's Eucharistic Procession on Sunday, which the Catholic Church commemorates as Divine Mercy Sunday.

Speakers

Peter Kreeft
Janet Smith
Fr. John Coughlin, OFM
Fr. Jim Heyd
Daniel and Amy McInerny

Respect Life Week

One week each Fall semester Right to Life members participate in a number of activities such as a local Life Chain a pro life prayer service and a Cemetery of the Innocents Pro-life talks and homilies during this period also contribute to the awareness fostered by Respect Life Week

Club Rosaries

Every week members pray a Rosary near a local abortion clinic. The group leaves from Main Circle at 8:00am Friday mornings. After all the other work we do to defend life, prayer is still our most significant and effective outreach.

Pro-Life Presentations

The Pro-Life Presentation Committee is ND Right to Life's student presentation group on life issues. With an informational presentation addressing the major life issues in our world today--abortion, stem cell research, cloning, and end-of-life issues, such as euthanisia and assisted suicide, they present the philosophical, theological, and practical reasons to be on the side of life and dispell the myths of the culture of death.

Welcome

Welcome to the Notre Dame Right to Life webpage. We seek to promote and uphold the sanctity of all human life from conception until natural death through prayer, service, and education, and to help women in crisis pregnancies find alternatives to abortion through service and support. In the spirit of the Catholic Church. Please feel free to have a look around and learn about the many events and activities we offer.

Theology of the Body

Come watch Christopher West's new DVD series on the Theology of the Body over dinner with friends! Episodes will be shown each Tuesday at 6:15pm in the Hospitality room of South Dining Hall. Contact us for more information or to be put on the Theology of the Body mailing list.

Right to Life needs your help

Right to Life commissions are your ticket to getting involved in saving lives! Each activity, event, or outreach of the group is organized and put into action by a commission of members. Take a look at what ND Right to Life has to offer, and sign up to help with the commission(s) of your choice.

Edith Stein Project

The Edith Stein Project is a conference at Notre Dame offering an optimistic perspective on the future of feminism by emphasizing the dignity of human persons and the unique role of women in society. This year's conference will focus on specific issues that require healing, and provide a forum for discussing means to achieve this healing. For more info or to register go to www.edithsteinproject.org

Youth Rally 2007

Step up to the plate! It's not too late to register your group for the March 4th, 2007 youth rally. This event has activities for middle school and highschool youth teaching them about respect for human life and sexuality. Great speakers, discussions, music, food, and Mass--what better way to learn about the important issues facing Catholic youth?
